

Treasury Against Silver Dollar Production House Members Rap New Dollar Issue

"On May 25th, the Treasury announced that it has decided against the mintage of any new silver dollars at this time.

Last year, in response to a Treasury request, Congress appropriated $600,000.00, an amount sufficient to manufacture 45 million silver dollars. To carry out the intent of Congress, the Treasury informed the White House that the U. S. Mint was ready to produce the silver dollars. It was on this information that the White House said that production could begin.

Since that time, however, certain members of Congress have, for reasons of interest in currency and coinage, urged the Treasury not to proceed with the production of the silver dollars.

After conferring with the White House, the Treasury has decided that the Mint will not produce the 1964 silver dollars at this time."

The following article points out some of the main reasons the above statement was released.—Ed.

—Analysis—

The Executive directive came under fire May 17 by Congressman Dante B. Fascell (D-Florida) who is also chairman of the House Legal and Monetary Affairs Subcommittee. Chairman Fascell's subcommittee is best remembered for its outstanding study on the nation's silver and coinage problems, released earlier this year.

Outspoken Congressman Fascell introduced his remarks by stating: "The U.S. Mint has just been given the go-ahead to start turning out 45 million silver dollars. The Congress had authorized these dollars to be minted in July 1964 but they have not been coined because the facilities of the mint were being used in a crash program to produce other coins to relieve the coin shortage.

—Studies—

"In its studies of the coin shortage and the silver situation, the Legal and Monetary Affairs Subcommittee of the House Committee on Government Operations, of which I am chairman, inquired into what effects coinage of the silver dollars would likely have on U.S. coin and silver supplies." And expressing concern over the potential loss of silver he added: "In the coinage of 45 million silver dollars almost 35 million ounces of silver will be consumed. This represents a whole year's U.S. production of the metal. The entire stock of Treasury silver is only about 1.025 billion ounces. At present rates of silver coinage, excluding the silver dollars, this is only a 3- or 4-year supply of silver. Defense and industrial users must also rely on the Treasury's supply and domestic production for their silver needs."

Congressman Fascell then pointed out his belief that the newly minted silver dollars would not remain in circulation because: "By early 1964 the Treasury had virtually run out of its supply of silver dollars. Practically none are in circulation. They are collectors' items, selling at two, three, and more times their face value. The subcommittee's studies disclosed that many bankers and other knowledgeable persons are sure that if 45 million silver dollars were to be coined they, too, would not remain in circulation, but would be taken up by coin collectors. In fact, advertisements have appeared in the press offering the silver dollars at high premiums, on a 'when issued' basis."

—Shortage—

Virtually discrediting the role of the silver dollar as a medium of circulation, Mr. Fascell stressed that: "The only U.S. coin for which there is a ready substitute is the silver dollar. Paper money generally takes the place of dollars. To that extent there is no shortage of dollars. There are, however, real shortages in the Nation's subsidiary coins, that is the dimes, quarters, and halves. Using our available silver to make subsidiary coins instead of silver dollars makes that silver stretch farther, because there is 7 percent less silver in those coins than there is in their equivalent values in silver dollars." He concluded by saying: "Manufacture of the 45 million silver dollars would add to the coin shortage, both because it will tie up facilities which are now used for the manufacture of other coins, and because it would use up a large quantity of silver which could be used for the manufacture of other coins for which there is a genuine need."

—Counte, White, Join Fascell—

Next day Chairman Fascell's drive picked up momentum as two other Congressmen joined him in the criticism of the planned 1964-dated silver dollars.

Summing up the situation Representative Conte (R-Mass.) stated: "We need 45 million silver dollars now like I need a hole in the head" in which he was joined by Rep. Compton White (D-Idaho) who stated, "the minting of these 45 million silver dollars will not ever serve the intended purpose. These silver dollars will not stay in circulation..."

In his opening remarks Rep. Conte alluded directly to the role played by hoarders and speculators in the immediate past coin shortage: "The President has decided to tax the already overtaxed Mint facilities even further by directing the production of 45 million new silver dollars. I must say the action leaves me a little dizzy and more than a little confused."

Commemoratives From Collector's Viewpoint

Grant To Old Spanish Trail 1922-1935

By: Christian F. Verbeke, F.R.N.S.

THE issuance of commemoratives was not always a profitable proposition as the remelting of these coins between the years 1892 to 1921 indicates. As explained before, in the latter years of that period the usage of intentional "additions" to designs e.g. Missouri and Alabama, often salvaged these issues from certain failure. Another example of the latter expediency is noticeable in the Grant Memorial Commemoratives.

This issue was struck in 1922 to commemorate the centenary of the birth of Ulysses S. Grant, the set comprised the silver half dollar and gold one dollar denominations; both of similar design by Laura Gardin Fraser, wife of James Earle Fraser, author of the Buffalo nickel.

One particularity of the coins is the choice of the designer's initial "G" (Gardin) used rather than "F" (Fraser), in order not to confuse the distinct husband-wife contribution. The initial "F" is of course James Earle Fraser's initial on the Buffalo nickel. Silver half dollar issued at $1.00 (both varieties). Gold one dollar issued at $3.00 (no star); $3.50 with star.

The usage of a star surmounting the name GRANT assured the issue of a relative success, yet a large portion of the silver issue was melted down.

Silver Coinage: With star 5,006, melted 750, net issued 4,256. No star 95,055, melted 27,650, net issued 67,405.

Gold Coinage: With star 5,016; no star 5,000; none melted for either.

Monroe Doctrine Centennial

A commemorative with a distinct political doctrine flavor, yet it was essentially the movie industry which sponsored the issue for the "First Annual American Historical Review and Motion Picture Industry Exposition" held in June 1923.

Well-known artist Chester Beach designed the coin, issued at $1 and of the 274,077 pieces coined, none were melted. Many coins were placed in circulation at face value, however; hence the relative scarcity of true BU specimens.

Huguenot-Walloon Tercentenary

A "controversial" issue because allegedly it exalted the position of Protestantism, moreover it was termed as religious propaganda and therefore considered un-American by some groups.

The subject of controversy was the selection of two famous 16th Century Protestants, Admiral Gaspard de Coligny of France, and William the Silent of Holland for the obverse design, and above all their lack of direct connection with the actual settlement of the New Netherlands — the very purpose of this issue released in 1924 for the tercentenary of the Huguenots and Walloons settlement in 1624.

The issue was handled by the Fifth National Bank of New York and brought out at $1; of the 142,080 coins struck, none were remelted, 55,000 unsold specimens were placed in circulation, however, as the bank had paid only face value to the Treasury.

Lexington-Concord Sesquicentennial

The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Lexington and Concord was commemorated by this issue released in 1925. It was offered initially at $1 by the U. S. Lexington-Concord Sesquicentennial Commission through the Concord National Bank of Concord, Mass. and the Lexington Trust Co. of Lexington, Mass. Of the 162,099 coins struck, only 86 were melted.

The coins were originally released in a small wooden box; the latter is rarely encountered on the coin market today, however. Also a Chester Beach design.

Stone Mountain

Next to Columbian the most prolific single-year issue. The coin was struck to commemorate the beginning of the sculptural work on Stone Mountain honoring the valor of Southern soldiers and also in memory of President Harding. The coin was issued at $1 and of the 2,314,709 struck, one million were melted still leaving a healthy 1,314,709 pieces. The coin is one of the more common commemoratives.

Treasury Opposition

By 1925 it had become abundantly clear that the issuance of commemoratives was often an haphazard enterprise, as a result then Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew Mellon, openly stated his opposition to the minting of commemorative coins. His contentions were that the return of unsold coins resulted in considerable expense to the Treasury caused by remelting operations. He cited an instance where nine tenths of an issue was returned for melting.

Over the Secretary's protest more issues were to appear, however.

California Diamond Jubilee

One of three issues authorized under an "omnibus" bill, the coin commemorated the seventy-fifth anniversary of the admission of the State of California into the Union. Sold at $1, of the 150,200 coins struck, 63,606 were melted leaving a 86,594 piece issue. These coins were struck at the San Francisco Mint and distributed by the San Francisco and Los Angeles member banks.

Fort Vancouver

Issued to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of Fort Vancouver, Washington. The designer was well-known Laura Gardin Fraser. Of the 50,028 coins struck, 35,034 were returned, leaving a low 14,994 pieces for distribution. This is amply reflected in the coin's prices today. Although struck at San Francisco, the mint mark "S" was inadvertently (?) omitted.

Sesquicentennial of American Independence

The Silver half dollar is literally the forerunner of the Franklin half dollar; this issue, commonly referred to as "The Sesquicentennial" was issued in 1926 at the Sesquicentennial Exposition and commemorated the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Of the 1,000,000 coins struck, 859,408 were remelted, leaving a net of 141,120 issued at $1 each. Particular to this issue is the extreme low relief of the strike, sometimes confused as a sign of wear. Considerable care in grading the coin should be exercised, however.

The designer of the coin, John R. Sinnock, used the Liberty Bell design later used in a modified version on the Franklin half dollar also designed by Sinnock.

The some commemorative issue included at $2½ gold piece issued at $4; the last of the U. S. gold commemorative issues, the coin has also rather distinct low relief characteristics. The original sesquicentennial bill requested the minting of a $1½ gold denomination a provision killed by the general aversion of Secretary Mellon towards commemorative coins.

Oregon Trail Memorial

Literally the first "scandal-ridden" commemorative issue struck between 1926 and 1939; certainly one of the issue which directly contributed to the disenchantment with commemorative coinage and its discontinuation in 1939. The coins commemorating the Oregon Trail and the pioneers of the Far West were issued in sets of three (PDS) for an initial $7.50, a drastic departure of the till then practiced price of $1.00 per coin.

The design resulted from the collaboration between James Earle Fraser and his wife Laura Gardin Fraser.

Vermont Sesquicentennial

Issued to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the battle of Bennington and the independence of Vermont.

One of the outstanding commemorative issues, well and equitably distributed; a large share of the proceeds went to the Bennington Museum.

The net coinage after melting was 28,142 coins issued at $1.00.

Hawaiian Sesquicentennial

Issued in 1928 to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the discovery of the Hawaiian Islands by Captain James Cook. Issued initially at $2.00 each, the coin reached an immediate premium. All 10,008 specimens struck were sold; this number included 50 sandblast proofs. Presently the highest-priced U. S. commemorative, retail averages $575.00.

Commemoratives Vetoed

Following the Hawaiian issue, the Hoover administration (1928-1934) systematically vetoed all commemorative coinage bills on the grounds it was "a misuse of our coinage system," a view still very popular today with some Treasury officials.

Maryland Tercentenary

After a four-year commemorative black-out, this issue was approved under the Roosevelt administration in 1934. None of the 25,015 coins struck were melted, although the issue met with some difficulties. Some 5,000 unsold coins were dumped at prices below the initial offering price of $1.00.

Texas Independence Centennial

First commemorative authorized after the Hoover commemorative "prohibition," the coin was issued between 1934 and 1938, and another one of the multi-year issues. The coin commemorated the one hundredth anniversary of Texas independence in 1936. Issuance price ranged between $1 and $2. The 1936 and 1937 sets (PDS) are actively on coin dealer want lists.

Daniel Boone Bicentennial

Issued to commemorate the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of Daniel Boone, this coin was struck between 1934 and 1938. Of particular interest is the 1935/ small 1934 set, the result of a technicality in coinage legislation. Low mintage (2,000) of the "D" and "S" varieties justify the understandable scarcity of the set now retailing around the $320.00 level.

Connecticut Tercentenary

By and large a well managed and distributed issue which commemorates the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Colony of Connecticut in 1935. Of the 25,018 coins struck, none were melted. The original offering price was $1 and the coins were contained in small boxes issued by the Connecticut Tercentenary Commission through Connecticut banks.

Arkansas Centennial

Another multi-year issue authorized under an omnibus bill commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the admission of Arkansas into the Union. The issue stretched between 1935 and 1939. During the latter year, the issuance price per set (PDS) had risen to $10.00. This particular issue was absorbed almost immediately after release; the set remains in considerable demand today with dealers offering around $285.00. A low mintage of 2,104 for each mint accounts for this relative scarcity.

Arkansas-Robinson

Also issued for the one hundredth anniversary of Arkansas' admission into the Union. The reverse is identical with the Arkansas centennial issue, but the obverse features the late Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Senate majority leader between 1933 and 1937. Although dated "1936," the coin was issued in 1937. Only 25,265 coins were struck and offered initially at $1.85.

Hudson, New York, Sesquicentennial

Another outstanding Chester Beach design issued to commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the City of Hudson, New York. A low the striking of silver dollars, Rep. Conte elaborated: "Last year's appropriation bill provided funds for the minting of these new silver dollars. I strongly opposed the appropriation at that time. The case that can be made against the advisability of minting silver dollars today is even stronger than it was a year ago."

"We cannot be mollified or persuaded to overlook the very real ramifications of this action by a pronouncement that the will of Congress is merely being carried out at the earliest feasible time. We have not arrived at a feasible time. The demand for coins is increasing, and increasing at a rate beyond any present hope or capability to keep pace. We simply cannot solve the shortage by feeding it more coins."

In addition Rep. Conte flatly stated that he does not consider the coin shortage solved and added: "There has been no improvement at all in the inventories for silver coins. They remained depleted. Secretary Dillon said that the mint would have to 'continue full steam with this crash program.' The program had not gotten into full operation at that time. It was the opinion of the Director of the Mint that it would be June before they would be organized for the 9 billion annual coin rate. We have not come up to this level yet in the attempt to meet our coin needs. In order to build up any reserves at all, we would have to operate at that level for some time to come. We have not met the daily coin demands, much less moved toward a resolution of our critical coin shortage problems."

"The President said in his directive: 'Substantial progress has been made in bringing the supply of small coins into line with the demand.' Where are the indications of this progress? Our subcommittee, I can tell you, has seen not one scintilla of this evidence."

— Technical Difficulties —

Representative Conte then very aptly described the technical difficulties facing the mint in producing silver dollars: "Because there have been no silver dollars made since 1935, considerable attention will have to be given to the production problems which will arise in connection with the manufacture of large quantities of silver dollars. No coins as large as the dollar have been produced on the present equipment in any of the mints. All of these problems, unexpected and unforeseen, must

BU 1964 BERMUDA CROWNS

Only 500,000 1964 Bermuda Crowns have been struck to date. We consider this crown to be a better investment than the 1964 Canadian Dollar which retails in the vicinity of $1.50 to $2.00 each. Even though another 500,000 Bermuda crowns might be struck (and it is also possible that they will not be struck) this would still only bring their total mintage to one quarter the amount of the '64 Canadian dollars. With these facts to go on, we think they have an excellent future and can offer them to you as follows:

	Post Paid
1 Piece each	1.80	100 Pieces

Issue

bility of a Congressional move to block the minting of the forthcoming 1964-dated silver dollars.

— Dillon's Views —

Rep Conte then briefly reviewed former Secretary of Treasury Dillon's views on the forthcoming silver dollars: "We have not commenced minting any of those silver dollars because we are still short in other coins. As we pointed out at the time of the hearings on the 1965 appropriation, we felt we could mint those 45 million coins without reducing the amount of coinage that was programed in our original appropriation act. I am convinced they would go into the hands of the speculators and coin collectors immediately and wouldn't be in circulation more than 20 minutes."

In line with earlier remarks Rep. Conte again stressed: "Can we imagine the foolishness of going out to stop the minting, to stop the presses, to mint 45 million silver dollars, which would be picked up by the speculators and the coin collectors?"

Replying to Rep. Conte, Rep. White then stated: "I do not believe it will be often that the gentleman in the well and myself will be on the same side of the coinage question as we are today. As the gentleman in the well will remember, at the time of the consideration of the Treasury Department appropriation bill, I opposed the minting of the additional 45 million silver dollars."

— Agrees —

"I agree with the remarks the gentleman has made today with respect to the minting of these dollars and what the outcome will be. First, the minting of these 45 million silver dollars will not even serve the intended purpose. These silver dollars will not stay in circulation in the State of the Member of the other body who is sponsoring the proposed minting. As recently as a half hour ago I looked at the wire service in the Speaker's lobby, which reported that already the coin collectors and numismatic associations are calling this a mess."

Commenting on the forthcoming Treasury Silver Report, Rep. Conte concluded: "It is a fact that on the floor of the cloakroom they say they will come out with a report calling for a sandwich coin which will have maybe 70 percent of silver on the outside with 30 percent copper, and maybe 30 percent silver on the inside and 70 percent of copper. They will come out with this report, and assuming that the rumors are right and they do come in with such a recommendation for a sandwich coin, they will argue that it will cut down the shortage of silver, but at the same time they come in with a directive to mint 45 million silver dollars, which will just gobble up 35 million ounces of silver which will not go into circulation."

Space City Averages:

HOW THEY ARE OBTAINED

With close to 1,500 separate statistics appearing each week in PACE, a need exists to express this information in graphic form for busy readers.

We are currently charting eight different coin series each week as you see below. These charts are based on Space City Averages, an arbitrarily chosen group of rolls which we feel are representative of the total for that series.

To be included in the Space City Averages rolls are chosen on the basis of three factors: (1) their trading is constant, (2) they are widely held, and (3) they are indicative of the series.

It is obvious infrequently traded items, closely held items, and extremes in the series would not serve this purpose.

Each week the statistical staff of PACE prepares these averages from the information obtained on The United States Coin Exchange transactions.

The amount expressed in the Space City averages is the total market bid prices for the rolls included in the averages. This is a dollar figure and is compared with previous week, month, and year figures for analysis.

The high and low for 1964 is also shown.

MARKET SUMMARY

MAY 26, 1965

By Russell Brown

SIX new lows for the year caused by a four to one excess of declines over advances were the results of a week which saw an increase in volume over the preceding month. Bright spots appeared in all denominations and the trend of decline seems to be changing rate if not direction.

Jefferson nickels boasted three issues each gaining five dollars per roll as a result of fairly active demand. The 1948-S, 1938-P and 1942-S were all prominent on the tapes and helped stall the Jeff tailspin which has been with us for three months.

A surprising demand for the 1952-D Roosevelt dime boosted that worthy some three dollars as a number of bidders settled on the issue as underpriced. This bidding activity and the resulting quick jump in price gives evidence as to what can be expected in future price levels when heavy buying starts once again.

Another "jumper" was the 1949-D quarter which lost three dollars last week and seven dollars the week before on heavy profit taking. This week a small number of bids kicked the price up eight dollars and next week may well see it back at its old level.

The key 1953-P Franklin half dollar was another star performer during the last few days with a gain of five dollars in the face of a general half dollar selloff.

Demand for Morgan dollars at prior week prices was quite heavy on the tapes and while no advances were noted, it was pleasant to see a number of bids on the more expensive rolls which have been absent for some little time. Unfortunately, the Peace series could not make the same boast as those issues are still undergoing what must be termed a price correction.

Proof sets matched the Morgan dollars in activity this week. While there were few changes in price, volume for the series was quite heavy and a number of fairly large transactions were spotted. Here again there were no material changes in price.

A much heavier than usual flow of transactions in circulated Franklin half dollars is taking place and though prices remain firm and unrising, offerings of the halves are not as easy to pick up as in past weeks. As a matter of fact, the circulated market for silver coins is looking very solid at this time.

The Market Opinion

There are quite a few people who seem to be waiting for the Canadian 1965 proof like sets to get down to face. They remember the sad case of the 1957 U.S. proof sets and their drop from a mint issues price of $2.10 to a low of $1.75. The situation at the present time appears somewhat similar to that of 1957.

In '57 there was a general decline in the coin market and an overabundance of the sets. No one was buying and as a result, the prices declined abnormally.

At this time, we have somewhat of a decline and the prices have come down to a present ask of $4.10.

While the Canadian mint is certainly doing their best to flood the market with the sets and to hold the prices as low as possible, we feel that the price should go no lower than issue price if that low. And in the future, though it be a matter of months or even years, the sets will climb in value as do all numismatic items.

There certainly are a lot of fairly wealthy individuals who are purchasing gold at this time. The prices are now quite low and the way quantity buying is taking place, we may be in for another small price rise.

United States Coin Exchange Transactions

BU Roll Prices as of Wednesday, May 26, 1965

These bid and asked prices, from the United States Coin Exchange Inc., do not necessarily represent actual transactions. They are a guide to the range within which these coins could have been sold (indicated by the "bid") or bought (indicated by the "asked") at the time of compilation. Price changes are obtained by comparison of weekly bid prices.

Prices are wholesale quotations compiled from the United States Coin Exchange teletype system which serves 285 coin dealers across the country.

A special visa issued to our agent has allowed Modern World Coins, Inc., to obtain a limited supply of the complete Russian coinage of 1961. This was the first year of issue for this series and the beginning of the new "heavy rouble system." The 50 Kopecks and one Rouble pieces have been replaced by new types in 1964 and the rest of the series will probably be changed in 1965.

The set consists of 9 coins Y-126 through Y-134. "The Russian dollar" or one Rouble piece is Y-134 and therefore included in a plush presentation case as pictured.

Per Set in plush case $12.95

The inside top is foam rubber covered in high quality satin.
